Partnership Case Study

Oil and Gas Sector Client. Trinity provided project management and EHS process consulting for development and deployment of a large-scale implementation of Benchmark Digital, including compliance calendar, action tracking, incident management, and AirLog, among other modules. The project covered solution design, user acceptance testing, and administrative and end-user training for all modules deployed. Trinity led and executed system security permissions and access for all users, in addition to detailed policies and procedures to ensure the long-term health and benefit of the system. Oversight dashboards were also created, giving functional and operational leaders access to real-time performance reports across the enterprise, with drill-down details into underlying data.
